

Guest writers

Guest writers on BKWine ? Here you can find some of our friends and colleagues, writing on some of their favourite subjects and giving you their personal recommendations on wine, wine makers, producers districts, and any other wine subject that they want to write about.

Wineworldtour ? Passionate about both travelling and wine, Delphine and Christophe conceived, planned and undertook a Wine World Tour - a world-wide journey of wine producers and wine related consumer markets outside of Europe.

This epic journey, undertaken between January and December 2005, enabled them to travel through 17 different countries and almost 200 vineyards.

Like wine specialists who develop their savoir-faire from vineyards from both hemispheres, our two 30+ year olds, adapted the same process to their own jobs in sales and marketing. Both have previously worked in marketing and business development roles in other industries.

Through wineworldtour, their aim is to bring their unique experience and innovative concepts to the French wine industry.

To discover more about their educational journey and to follow their extraordinary adventures at their side, visit their webpage www.homepage.mac.com/wineworldtour